Embrace the energy efficient power of the Silverlink 600 Electric Induction Hob, which typically delivers 90% efficiency when compared with a solid electric hot plate at 55% and gas hob at 50%. An added efficiency is that ventilation and air conditioning costs can also be reduced, as the heat is generated in the pan instead of the hob surface, focusing energy where it's needed, and not wasting it into the kitchen. It's a highly responsive and controllable cooking method which delivers almost twice the cooking power of a similarly rated gas hob. The boost function delivers even more power when it's most needed.
